

SOVREN
CREW

We recognise that placing crew is so much more than matching a CV to a job vacancy.

The ultimate resource for the finest superyacht crew

Sovren Crew has the experience, contacts and resources to be the solution to all your employment requirements since acquiring Dovaston, one of the most respected agencies in superyacht recruitment, five years ago. We pride ourselves on the ability to fulfil the complete spectrum of roles on the world's most desirable yachts.

We recognise that placing crew is so much more than matching a CV to a job vacancy; it embraces a two way process between client and candidate. The filter and selection process can include headhunting the candidates that exactly fit the requirements of the yacht and that particular client.

Sovren Crew is based in Palma, Mallorca and is part of Sovren House Group that encompasses a broad range of yacht services including a marina, new build projects, management, training and crew services.

INCEPTIO

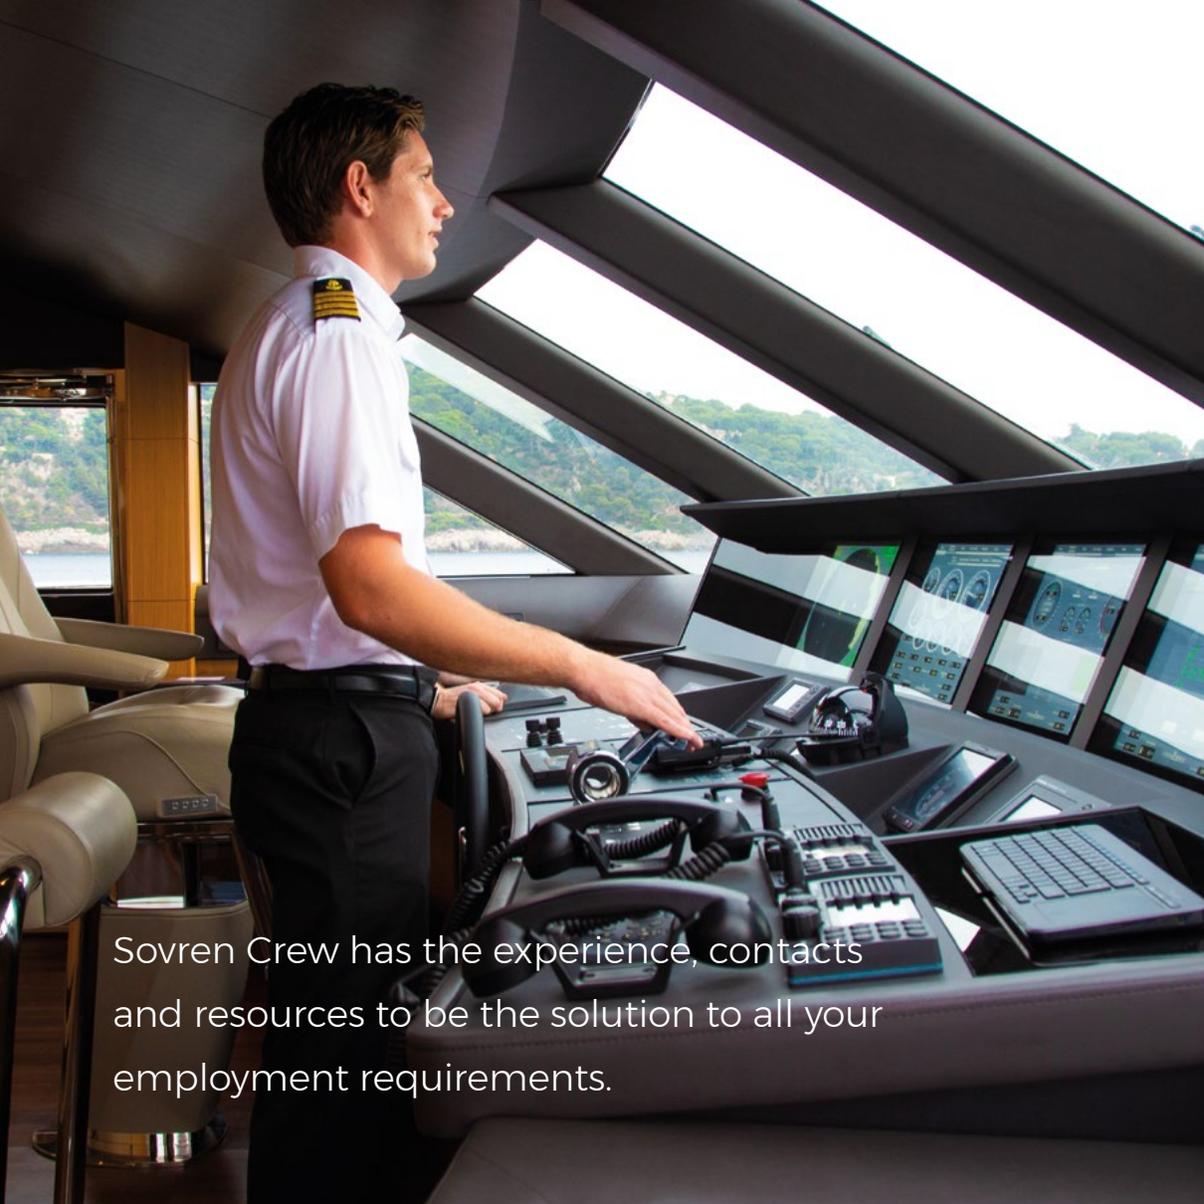

Expertise and first hand experience

Our recruitment team are all yachting and recruitment professionals. We understand the challenges both from the employer and employee perspectives and we seek out the exact fit that they require.

Sovren Crew covers all departments, ranks and professions and has one of the most extensive databases in the industry. We use our in depth understanding of each role and focus on the details of what the client and candidate want.

The Sovren Advantage

We also offer an Advantage package that capitalises upon the range of six services offered within our Group for a simple monthly fee. As a yacht owner you can select all or just certain services from: crew placement, crew training, operational management, safety management, charter management and marina berthing.

Sovren Crew has the experience, contacts and resources to be the solution to all your employment requirements.

Crew recruitment made simple

Sovren can work either on a fee or retainer basis with standards and expertise that have evolved over many years. Every Owner and Captain has their particular requirements and we treat each opportunity on an individual basis.

Within our portfolio of companies, Sovren Crew Solutions can provide the seasonal crew you need on short-term employment contracts over the summer or winter. Preferential crew recruitment rates apply for yachts that we manage and for select management companies.

Our online portal allows both employers and candidates to post or apply for new opportunities and features everything from experience and personality descriptions to due diligence.
